

Your Three Card Reading (sample)

In the past position(far left): The Marriage card. The fairies join us in celebrating wedded bliss. This may mean someone close to you has recently got married or is celebrating their marriage or perhaps it is a sign to work on healing your own marriage or give it more attention. You may have also met someone significant at a recent wedding.

The present card(middle): Everything's Okay. Stop your worrying, because everything is going to work out just how it is supposed to. As long as you have good intent in your heart beautiful things will come about. Maybe there is a rather large transformation taking place in you/your life similar to a Caterpillar transforming into a butterfly.

The future card(far right): Get some exercise. As your body become stronger you will feel it in all ways. It will improve your outlook on things and help you be more confident to lead yourself as well as others.
